The Shoebox Bible Alan Bradley

On a cold, dark winter day during the Second World War, a young Alan Bradley found hidden beneath a floorboard in his mother's bedroom closet a well-worn cardboard shoebox.

At the time, he could make little sense of the ragtag things he found inside: cigarette packages, soup can labels, handbills, calendars, paper bags, pie boxes—any scrap of paper upon which his mother could copy out, in her old-fashioned handwriting, what seemed to be no more than unrelated snippets of Scripture.

He only knew that the box, which he would later come to think of as the Shoebox Bible, had something to do with the fact that his father had run away from home.

Many years would pass, and his mother would be on her deathbed before he would once again hold this treasure in his hands. And only then would he put together the pieces of the puzzle, and learn the complete truth.

Beautifully and lovingly told, The Shoebox Bible is a wonderful memoir of a precocious family who manage to live and love despite the absence of their father.

Interspersed with heartbreaking quotations from the Old and New Testaments, this sad, funny, and above all inspiring story will appeal to readers who fell in love with such inspirational books as Tuesdays with Morrie and Mister God, This Is Anna.

Sharonda Adair:

As a university student exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some reserve, they are complained. Just small students that has reading's spirit or real their interest. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring and can't see colorful photos on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important in your case. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever we really wish for. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this The Shoebox Bible can make you really feel more interested to read.
