Sometimes we don't like it when it rains. All sorts of things come with rain, like thunder and lightning; and that can be very scary. You definitely can't go swimming when there is thunder and lightening, but you can still swim when it's just plain old rain, so that kind of rain isn't scary at all. Some people like to dance in the rain. There are old movies on TV that show you that. Maybe that sort of thing isn't for you and like the heroine of our little story, you just can't stand the rain! Sometimes people feel like that, especially if they are kids; and that's very much okay. However, there are lots of things you can do when it rains. You can even do what the kids in this book do if your mother will let you. The main thing to remember is you do not need to be afraid of the rain. Use it as an opportunity to do something else, something fun. Cozy up with a good book (maybe this book) draw a picture, watch a fun video, maybe the video that goes with this book! And it's free so look for it on Bellissimavideo on YouTube--It's easy because the name of the video is the same as the title of this book! Written and illustrated by Penelope Dyan, an award winning author, attorney and former teacher, if you can't stand the rain, or if you don't know what to do on a rainy day, then this book is perfect for you! Now this book won't tell you WHAT to do on a rainy day, but it will help you get started on thinking about what a rainy day means and get you thinking about how you can be creative on a rainy day!
